1. From the, E-li-za, I must go, and from my native shore; the
2. Farewell, farewell, E-li-za dear, the maid that I adored! A cruel fates between us throw a boundless ocean's roar: But bodily voice is in mine ear, we part to meet no more! But the boundless oceans, roaring wide, between my love and me, they latest throb that leaves my heart, while death stands victorious by, that never, never can divide my heart and soul from thee. throb, E-li-za, is thy part, and thine that latest sigh!
